John Deere

John Deere is an American business that manufactures agricultural machinery.

John Deere was born in the USA on February 7th 1804. He began as a repairman in a small village and began to manufacture tools such as pitchforks and shovels.

John Deere was the creator of the self-scouring plough which he made in 1837. This allowed soil to slide of the plough easily, compared to older wooden poles that soil stuck too.

He died in 1886. After he died, the company went on to create the first tractor in 1917.
